Cunningham, pastor of the St. John's Methodist Church, Memphis, Tennessee, will be the main speaker for the Evangelistic Rally to be held in the Memorial Methodist Church, Appomattox, Friday evening, March 7, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. John F. Owens, District Superintendent of Lynchburg District, will preside.

Following the main sermon of the evening, discussion groups on Pulpit Evangelism, Visitation Evangelism, and Church School Evangelism, will be conducted by various leaders from the District. Representatives from the fifteen Methodist Churches of the Appomattox area are expected to be present for the Rally, and visitors are always welcome to any of the services held at the church.

Rev. Richard A. Bergdoll is the host pastor, and together with him will be the Rev. Aaron Smith, of the Appomattox Circuit; Rev. L. E. Daniel, of the Concord Circuit, and Rev. Donald S. Clark, of Pamplin Circuit.

One of the differences between getting a big salary and getting a little salary is the question of accepting responsibility.

The person who has no appreciation for the beautiful in life has not been properly educated.

Some of the puzzles of life confound us, but we are always able to find someone who knows all the answers.

. . . . Dr. Robert H. E. Mielke

Dr. Robert H. E. Mielke, Professor of Philosophy and Religion in Emory and Henry College, Emory, Virginia, will be an instructor in the Christian Workers' School, beginning in the Memorial Methodist Church, March 17, and continuing for the five nights of the week.

Dr. Mielke is a native of Minneapolis, Minnesota, and obtained the B. A. and M. A. degrees from the University of Minnesota. He received the B. D. and Ph. D. degrees from Drew University, Madison, New Jersey. He has served as pastor of Methodist Churches in New Jersey, New York and in Minnesota, and is completing five years at Emory.

The instructor will teach the course: "The Acts of the Apostles." He will use the textbook by E. P. Blair, "A Study of the Book of Acts."

Persons of other denominations are cordially invited to attend any or all of the class sessions to begin each evening of the week at 7:15 o'clock and continue for two fifty-minute periods, with a brief intermission between the two class sessions.

At the regular meeting of the Boosters Club of Urbanna, Va., last Thursday night, three trophies were given by the club to winners in a Rock Fishing Contest. The trophies are shown above, with Dr. C. W. Taber, who was chairman of the committee last year, and Gene Paulette, right, chairman of the committee for 1958. The contest was started eight years ago by Dr. Taber, considered dean of Middlesex rock fish anglers. Paulette, formerly of the Farmers National Bank in Appomattox, is now Executive Vice President and Cashier of The Bank of Middlesex. (We are indebted to The Southside Sentinel, Urbanna, for this picture and story).

Health and Beauty

There is very convincing evidence to show that backaches is usually traceable to bad posture habits. After these habits are formed, the body adjusts itself to the condition but the spinal column cannot function well when it is tilted to an unnatural degree. Edges that were meant to be cushioned from one another by cartilage, meet and scrape. This, in time, causes pain and makes standing erect almost unbearable.

Most of these poor posture habits are formed in youth. In school and while working homework after classes, the child sits at a flat-topped desk, hunched over and leaning close to his work. The load of heavy books most students are required to haul about between classes and home after school these days, is enough, in many cses, to cause bad posture in itself.

In the interest of good posture and improved health desks should have stilted writing areas and flat margin areas above for reference books, pencils, and paper. Seats should have contour backs and foot pedestals.

By the time one reaches his late teens, his posture has molded. The male, conscious of his appearance, females, tends to stand when standing. The ly conscious of her adolescence. However riage and a family ually so many things besides posture, that into bad posture ha

In FASHION now

It has been noted many times that fashion seems to run in 20 to 30 year cycles. Perhaps this explains the recent return to the clothes similar to those popular during the 20's. The biggest fashion news in '58 is the chemise or sack dress. Pleated skirts, turbans, blooded topped dresses, dropping waistline, and T-strap shoes with heels are making another appearance on their second go-round.

Hemlines shot up — almost to the knees. The big question is—will American women take up their skirts to meet the new 16 or 17 inches from the floor requirement? Many designers say they will not. The past has proven to most women that their skirts at the length most flattering to them personally is their best bet. They will copy many ideas brought over from Europe, but the recent past has showed that they will not take to an idea unless it is becoming. An example of this was the Flat look that Paris tried so hard to sell us.

The return of the flapper is even more aparent in accessories to go with sack dresses and unfitted suits. Turbans and bretons — a modified sailor with a turned up brim — have appeared on all hat bars and important showings. Colored stockings, unsuccessfully introduced after the war, are being showed again. Here again, colored stockings are not going over. It is about all most of us can do to keep ourselves in any kind of stockings, much less the more expensive colored stockings. The manufacturers will have to do something about making stockings longer - wearing before women will show any interest in buying more hose.

Strings and strings of rope jewelry are important on the '58 flapper's list. Gloves are getting much longer.

Bright red and all shades of green are the colors for '58. Splashy Paisley and Paisley type prints have made an important comeback.

Don't give in to the temptation to eat freely and adopt a devil-may-care attitude toward weight watching because of the new cover-up fashions. You do, and you will find yourself dieting like mad when fitted styles once more become fashionable.

NEWS AROUND TOWN

By Mrs. Calvin Robinson

I liked this one:

"How do you do, my dear?" said the old lady to the little girl.

"Quite well, thank you," was the polite reply.

There was a pause and then the old lady asked, "Why don't you ask how I am?"

"Because," said the child calmly, "I'm not interested." —Oral Hygiene.

One of the most active members of the State Senate in the current session of the General Assembly which concludes its deliberations on Saturday night, has been Appomattox's Senator Chas. T. Moses. Due to his ability and seniority, he heads important committees in the upper legislative body, and our information is that he has introduced 55 bills and 5 resolutions this session, a sign of a very active legislator. Senator Harry Stuart, of Russell, had 53 bills and 4 resolutions, and Senator Chas. Fenwick, of Arlington, had 52 bills and 11 resolutions in the hamper. However, the record for the session went to Delegate Joseph J. Williams, of Henrico, with 91 bills and 11 resolutions.

Senator Moses has also been highly commended for the manner in which he has presided as chairman of the Roads Committee. He has been praised for setting an excellent example in having "open" meetings

●

The number of people who some time or other have "had their picture in the paper" is tremendous. Some may not know what has to happen before a picture appears in a paper, and I am no expert at it. However, the idea is that a good glossy print must be sent to the engraver, who prepares a metal plate for printing purposes. There is a new process used by some papers, by which the porcedure is speeded up, and a plastic used. Anyway, it does not damage the original photograph to have a plate made from it, and most newspaper offices are stacked with files of the original pictures that were not called for or otherwise returned. Our paper is no exception and although we tell the customer, "You can get the picture back," many never call for it, and we have box after box of old pictures.

●

Some of these old pictures never appeared in print for one reason or another, and others are just old pictures we came into possession of. I was going over this old file recently, and came across lots of very interesting pictures. Here are just a few:

●

Here is one of C. W. Smith, at a flag-draped stand at the court house in World War II, introducing a guest speaker at a War Bond selling rally. I think that was an occasion when we had the Camp Pickett Band to parade through town, and it was a high-water mark of our patriotic war effort.

●

And here is a close-up snapshot of Senator Harry F. Byrd, taken on the day of the Dedication of Holliday Lake, back in the 1950's. That event is remembered by many of us and we recall what a great throng of people attended.

●

And bring out the handerchiefs: Here is a picture of a large group of Appomattox boys boarding a bus to be inducted into the Army in the early days of World War II. We tried to pick out as many as we could, but couldn't recognize too many of our boys all set to "join the Army." But the fellow stepping up front with suitcase in hand, definitely was Robert Smith. I recall that Robert sent us a souvenir from his camp and we used it and treasured it. And it all brings back memories of even larger groups leaving for camp, many leaving by train, and recollections of the great crowds gathering here to "tell the boys goodbye." And many homes were saddened because some of the boys never came back.

●

And here is an old picture! I do not know if it ever appeared in the paper, but it is of the late beloved Senator Samuel Lewis Ferguson. It was taken in his office at the court house, and I do believe the secretary seated in front of a huge typewriter is Mary Lizzie Parris.

●

Another old picture! It is of the tremendous crowd jamming Main St. in Appomattox for a prize drawing staged in the 1930's by the Appomattox Hardware Co. We well remember that 'ay, and can recognize a few of the faces in what was one of the largest crowds ever in town.

●

And here is a picture we surely treasure. It is of Mr. R. L. Burke, and shows him beaming, in white sports cap and sports clothes on a deep-sea fishing trip off Virginia's Cape Charles. The picture shows him standing beside a large channel bass —surely a thrilling moment in anyone's life. I seem to remember this trip being written up in the paper, and I believe the late Col. William A. Coleman was also on the trip.

●

Next in our treasure chest of old pictures is one of Wilmer McLean, owner of the famed McLean House at Old Appomatox.

●

Of more recent date is a large picture of one of the best basketball players A. H. S. girls' teams ever had: Barbara Ann Cawthorne, then Barbara Ann Johnson. Father Darkleaf always said: "Just give Barbara Ann the ball and it is two points for A. H. S." But he was not telling that it was an all-round outstanding team, with such stars as Catherine Christian, Helen Mae Poe and the Goad and Burks girls to make up a real winning combination.

●

Well, all this from just one box of old pictures. Oh yes, here is one of Peggy Godsey, when she was about five years old. And we will go into other such pictures boxes and see what else we can find!

●

Before signing off, we want to mention that Mrs. J. D. Allen, Jr., President of the Lynchburg Council of Garden Clubs, announces that the Spring Flower Show entitled, "The Awakening of Spring," will be held at the E. C. Glass High School loddy in Lynchburg on March 29 and 30. The classification of the entries and complete program schedule will be announced later.

Mesdames T. J. Chaffin and John C. McKee are the General Co-Chairmen of the 1958 Spring Flower Show.

Liberty Chapel

Liberty Chapel, March 5.- Dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thornhill were W. W. Thornhill, of Gladstone; Don Owen and Albert Owen, of Randolph; Mr. and Mrs. Noel Johnson, Mrs. Acree Deavona and son, and Mrs. H. A. Powell, of Wyllesburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Wilkerson and son, of South Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Thornhill and son were also guests. Others visiting in the afternoon were J. L. Thornhill, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stanley, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Thornhill.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Scruggs and daughters, of Buckingham visited Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Reynolds Sunday.

Mrs. White, of Lynchburg, is visiting this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mann.

Mrs. Kate Gunter and daughter, Alice, visited Mr. and Mrs. Don Thornhill Saturday.

Gladstone Memorial Church and Liberty Chapel Church had a good attendance for a Book taught Friday evening at Liberty Chapel, by Mrs. Martin Coleman. After the study, a social hours was enjoyed by all.

CUT FEED COSTS FOR DAIRY PROFITS

Feed normally represents about one-half the cost of milk production. One effective way to increase dairy profits, says Dr. V. L. Baldwin, associate dairy husbandman at VPI, is to cut feed costs.

One way to do this is by replacing some of the grain and concentrates usually fed to dairy cattle with more high-quality roughage.

In U. S. Department of Agriculture tests, Dr. Baldwin says, it was found that dairy heifers fed large amounts of good forage reached normal weights at 24 months of age with much less grain than is usually fed. In contrast to the 2,000 or 3,000 pounds of grain commonly consumed before first calving, the heifers grew normally on 500 pounds of grain plus plenty of good forage.

The studies indicated that it is important to maintain a high legume content in roughage rations. Alfalfa hay was combined with other high quality roughages such as corn silage, timothy hay and corn silage, timothy hay and orchard grass - ladino hay, etc.
